

Aegis Press

P.O. Box 3023
858 539-9847

Del Mar, California
www.theaegispress.com

92014
fax: 858 523-9707

The Creed Room

A Novel of Ideas

Daniel Spiro

“A terrific read. How wonderful to plunge into a book where ideas reign—delectable, relevant, accessible ideas about faith, justice, secularism, fairness, religion, politics and the nature of reality. America’s response to Sophie’s World.”

—Irvin Yalom, M.D., Professor of Psychiatry, Stanford University author of The Schopenhauer Cure and When Nietzsche Wept

“Some books engage the heart, others the head. This wonderful first novel engages the head and the heart and is a terrific page turner.”

—Mauricio Cortina, M.D., co-editor of A Prophetic Analyst: Erich Fromm’s Contribution to Psychoanalysis

“Our greatest religions have always taught us to question, negotiate, and evolve them over time. In an era when this practice of collaborative inquiry is considered blasphemous or, worse, secular, The Creed Room presents a clever ‘what if’ in the spirit of George Bernard Shaw.”

—Douglas Rushkoff, author of Nothing Sacred: The Truth about Judaism, Exit Strategy and Coercion

“Attorney Daniel Spiro, a Spinoza-loving first-time novelist, serves up a case destined to make us elders pay attention to what we should continue to learn from the ancients. Intelligent design, abortion, schooling by testing, Katrina-bared poverty and gay marriage are a few of the hot buttons he presses into Talmudic, Socratic questioning. Spiro uses suspense and humor to make readers realize that human choices and risk-taking are basic to understanding religious and moral values linked to the Buddha and the children of Abraham.”

—Wilton Dillon, Senior Scholar Emeritus, Smithsonian Institution

Distributed to the Trade by Biblio Distribution — an NBN Sister Company (800) 462-6420